

Brain Tumour Support Members Forum

Our Brain Tumour Support Members Forum is a closed group on Facebook which provides peer to peer support through its members.

The group is open to all - patients, carers, family and friends - and membership is monitored by admins so it remains a safe place for you to ask questions, tell your story, receive or give advice.

To join the group you need to answer a short question about how you have been affected by a brain tumour diagnosis.

Go to the group through this link -
