For holidays outside the UK oxygen will need to be arranged via a private company (details available from your oxygen supplier). It's important that you inform your medical team as soon as possible if you're planning to travel abroad in case you require a fitness-to-fly assessment, which will determine whether or not you need to wear oxygen on the plane.

For more information on your home oxygen service check out www.dolbyvivisol.co.uk or www.uk.airliquide.com depending on your provider.
